Special Events

October is an exciting month in libraries!

6th October is Silver Sunday in Norfolk Libraries, in which our libraries will all be celebrating older people.

Further information to follow.

Save the week – Libraries week takes place from Monday 7th October to Saturday 12th October

Libraries Week is a national annual campaign which celebrates the nation's much loved libraries. Libraries Week will take place from Monday 7th October to Saturday 12th October. There is a national digital theme, celebrating the role of libraries in the digital world. In Norfolk we also want to focus the week on encouraging people to join their local library and promote all the wonderful things you can do with your library card – eBooks, eAudio, eMagazines, Open Library etc. giving people lots of reasons to keep coming back!

Friday 11th October at 5.00pm - Mundesley Library Friends will be holding another of their fascinating talks in our library.

The talk this time will be by Aylsham Roman Project, who will be talking about the community archaeological dig which has been taking place in Aylsham over the last four years. Tickets £3, booking strongly advised and further information available from the library.
